

Student Self-Assessment Rubric

| THE GOOD HAMBURGER                     |   |            |              |           |        |            |
|--|---|------------|--------------|-----------|--------|------------|
| NAME:                                  | _____   | Not at all | A little bit | Sometimes | Mostly | Definitely |
| The Bun                         | My paragraph begins with a clear topic sentence and ends with a summarising sentence.                   |            |              |           |        |            |
| The Lettuce                     | My second sentence gives detail about the opening sentence.   |            |              |           |        |            |
| The Tomato                      | The third sentence compliments the second and provides more detail.                                     |            |              |           |        |            |
| The Cheese                      | The third (and any consequent) sentence elaborates on the opening sentence, providing even more detail. |            |              |           |        |            |
| The Whole                       | I have used interesting, juicy, and colourful words in my paragraph.                                    |            |              |           |        |            |
| How can I improve my paragraph? |   |            |              |           |        |            |

Student Self-Assessment Rubric

| THE GOOD HAMBURGER                     |   |            |              |           |        |            |
|--|---|------------|--------------|-----------|--------|------------|
| NAME:                                  | _____   | Not at all | A little bit | Sometimes | Mostly | Definitely |
| The Bun                         | My paragraph begins with a clear topic sentence and ends with a summarising sentence.                   |            |              |           |        |            |
| The Lettuce                     | My second sentence gives detail about the opening sentence.   |            |              |           |        |            |
| The Tomato                      | The third sentence compliments the second and provides more detail.                                     |            |              |           |        |            |
| The Cheese                      | The third (and any consequent) sentence elaborates on the opening sentence, providing even more detail. |            |              |           |        |            |
| The Whole                       | I have used interesting, juicy and colourful words in my paragraph.                                     |            |              |           |        |            |
| How can I improve my paragraph? |   |            |              |           |        |            |